PTC Rezoning Filed for Jones Branch Drive Sites

The site on Jones Branch Drive in Tysons currently home to Hilton Hotel's world headquarters is the subject of a recent rezoning filed by property owner Bethesda-based BF Saul Company.

Saul's Tysons Park Inc. and Tysons Park Place II LLC are asking to rezone the two parcels – totaling 7.64 acres – from the C-4, High Intensity Office, to the PTC, Planned Tysons Corner Urban, district to permit, in phases, redevelopment of the prime site (tax map 029-4-07-005B and -005C).

The Providence district property, on the east side of Jones Branch Drive, is book-ended on the south by the Hilton McLean hotel and on the north by the Jones Branch Connector (which will bridge the Beltway and provide a connection to the McLean Metro station on Route 123, within a half-mile of the property).

Two 11-story office buildings – including the 311,600-square foot, 147-foot tall Hilton headquarters building at 7930 Jones Branch – and an above-grade parking garage backing up to the ramps onto I-495 occupy the rectangular-shaped site.

According to the rezoning statement filed on behalf of the applicant by attorney Mark Viani (Bean Kinney & Korman, PC), the applicant has no immediate plans to redevelop the fully-leased, 10-year old building at 7930, but instead is focusing on replacing the “functionally obsolete” Park Place I building at 7926 Jones Branch built in 1975.

“With a development philosophy that emphasizes creating long-term value through its assets, the Applicant believes the time is ripe to redevelop the Property. To that end, the Applicant is currently proposing to redevelop Park Place I with trophy-class office space featuring world-class architecture and sustainable design features as envisioned by the Comprehensive Plan,” the statement reads.

The submittal states that the applicant plans to redevelop the 43-year old building with an approximately 450,000-square foot, 290-foot tall office building (with retail), rotating the structure – predominantly facing the Beltway – approximately 90 degrees “thereby opening up views, light, and air through the site and creating symmetry with the adjacent Hilton Worldwide headquarters.”

As part of the application, the applicant is requesting a modification to permissible building heights at the site, contending that “strict application of the heights proposed under the Conceptual Building Heights Map would prevent an effective redevelopment of the Property under the PTC district.”

The FAIRFAX Newsletter

“The proposed Park Place I office space will dramatically change the look and feel of the Property,” the submission continues, adding that the design “will introduce a cohesive set of building materials that especially feature glass and precast concrete elements,” with the volume of glass lightening the feel of the building, which will feature step backs in several areas above the base “adding interest to the form and shape...while lessening its visual impact on the public realm.”

Park Place I Site Rendering; Source: Bean, Kenny & Korman

Additional enhancements to the public realm offered with the project include on-street parking and bike lane along Jones Branch, a series of usable green spaces and café spaces, as well as a 3,800-square foot bicycle pocket park. The unique park, in the southwest corner of the property, will feature filtered water fountains, benches, and at least two permanent bike stations with access to tools and equipment for bike repair and maintenance tasks, the document states.

Along with the conceptual and final development plans submitted with the application, the applicant has filed a companion special exception request to permit a higher parking ratio – temporarily – than the recommended 2.2 spaces per one thousand square feet. With Park Place II not slated for redevelopment at this time, the development plan equates to 2.44 spaces per one thousand square feet; with future redevelopment of Park Place II, the parking will comply with the PTC standards, the application states.

Recognizing that in the short-term, the higher parking ratio is not in line with the goals set out in the Tysons master plan, the applicant has committed to a Transportation Demand Management plan that provides Metro vouchers for office tenants and establishes a “transportation education reserve fund” to promote public transportation and modal alternatives.

In support of the project, the submission states that while other projects contain phased office development or are planned for future office uses, “this Application has the potential to bring new world-class office space online in the immediate future.”

Commission Schedules Reston Crescent Redevelopment Decision for July 12th

A difference of opinion between county staff and applicant on an affordable/workforce housing commitment led the planning commission to delay its decision at the June 28th public hearing on Brookfield Properties’ proposal to rezone 36 acres south of the Reston Town Center Metro station.

Brookfield is asking to rezone the property from I-4, Medium Intensity Industrial, to PDC, Planned Development Commercial, to allow phased construction of just over four million-square feet of mixed use development including – in the first phase – a new 110,000-square foot Wegmans market topped by 380 multi-family residential units.

The partially-developed property, currently home to two 6-story office buildings, parking garage, surface parking, and stormwater management ponds, is located west of Reston Parkway, north of Sunrise Valley Drive, east of Edmund Halley Drive, and south of the Dulles Toll Road.

In addition to the existing office buildings, which will be retained, the project – called Reston Crescent – will include 3.77 million-square feet of new mixed-use development laid out across eight blocks (Blocks A through H). The community (a portion of which is within a quarter-mile of the Metro station) will be linked by an internal grid of streets that will ultimately connect Reston Parkway to Edmund Halley Drive and Sunrise Valley Drive with a new east/west roadway on the property’s northern boundary.

Approximately 22-percent of the property – 8.5 acres – will be provided as open space (15 percent is required), with the new urban park areas to include a 1.05-acre central gathering place, a 2.75-acre park south of the existing stormwater management ponds, and dog park, fitness area, and gateway plaza area proximate to the Metro, among other spaces.

Reston Crescent Block Layout; Source: Fairfax County

Reston Crescent Use Mix
Source: Fairfax County
Use	Total Square Footage
Residential	1,771,000 (up to 1,721 units)
Office	1,885,940 (includes 385,940 square feet of existing office uses)
Retail/Commercial/Grocery	380,000
Hotel	125,000 (200 keys)
TOTAL	4,161,940

Under the current zoning and associated special exception approvals, the property may be developed with a maximum gross floor area of 1.1 million-square feet of office space in five buildings (three of which have yet to be constructed).

The disagreement between the applicant and the staff is grounded in the plan policy that calls for applicants seeking to use the transit-oriented redevelopment option to contribute $3.00 per non-residential square foot to support workforce/affordable housing opportunities. (The staff has no issue with the applicant’s commitment to provide 15-percent of the proposed residences as workforce dwelling units.)

The staff contends that the applicant’s contribution should be based on the entirety of the non-residential development – 1,625,000-square feet of new office and hotel uses proposed with the Reston Crescent project.

Speaking on behalf of the applicant at the hearing, attorney Mark Looney (Cooley LLP) asserted that the 725,000-square feet of previously approved but as-yet unbuilt office space should be exempt from the ADU/WDU contribution.

At the same time, Looney said, “recognizing that in our collective experience the county is more interested in getting affordable units than money in a pot, we’ve proposed to reduce the income levels for the workforce dwelling units below the county policy.”

Instead of providing WDUs affordable to those earning 80-, 100-, and 120-percent of the Area Medium Income (AMI), Brookfield is proffering to drop the percentages to 70-, 90-, and 100-percent of AMI, Looney said, adding, however, that the applicant is “agnostic” on whichever choice the county makes.

Given the divide between the staff and developer on the issue, Hunter Mill Commissioner moved to delay a decision the project until this week’s meeting.

“The WDUs. We seem to be down to that one issue,” Carter observed, after pointing out that “the land use mix and density is in conformance with the comprehensive plan and certainly the Wegmans adds a reality to this that some of the other projects don’t always have.”

Mather Plans Luxury Senior Living Community at Arbor Row in Tysons

One of the many goals within the Tysons master plan calls for creating diverse housing opportunities in the county’s emerging transit-oriented downtown. To that end, a new housing opportunity – for seniors – was announced this week by Chicago-based Mather LifeWays.

Mather LifeWays (www.matherlifeways.com), in partnership with Westminster Capital (www.westminstercapitalllc.com), plans to develop a two-tower luxury senior living building at 7929 Westpark Drive – anticipated to open in 2022 – as part of the Arbor Row mixed-use project.

The FAIRFAX Newsletter

“The Mather” will feature one- and two-bedroom units, some with dens, with a starting price of $650,000. Amenities for residents include a variety of dining venues; a fitness center and day spa that includes swimming pool, exercise studio, whirlpool, and steam showers; and 24-hour concierge, valet parking, and scheduled shuttle service, according to the July 10th announcement. Also offered: culinary package options, housekeeping and maintenance, and social, educational, and cultural opportunities such as workshops, seminars, and live music, the document reads.

Residents will also have priority access to “The Mather Life Centre,” which, the announcement states, “provides a full continuum of living options, including assisted living, memory support, and skilled nursing care suites, with various health plan coverage options.”

The Mather Tysons Rendering;

In the release, Mary Leary, CEO and president of Mather LifeWays, said, “We are excited about our plan to build a forward-thinking Life Plan Community in Tysons,” adding that “[t]he Mather will be luxury of a different kind for leading-edge Boomers who wish to plan ahead to live life to the fullest.”

In October of last year, Arbor Row developer Cityline filed a proffered condition amendment/conceptual development plan amendment application for the 4-acre site to allow development of the Mather project in lieu of two previously-approved but as-yet undeveloped office buildings.

According to the final development plan associated with the project (which is still undergoing review), the proposed “life plan community” will include an 18-story tower and 27-story tower on a 5-story podium above a parking garage, according to the submission. The project will include 650,314-square feet of “quasi-public uses” and up to 18,121-square feet of retail/service uses. The Mather will feature approximately 300 independent living units, approximately 78 assisted living, memory support, and skilled nursing beds.

Commission Favors Adding Four Plan Amendments to Work Program

The planning commission at its June 28th mark-up session voted to support putting four North County site-specific plan nominations on the 2018 plan amendment work program.

All four nominations have a common denominator: a desire to add an option for mixed-use development, reflecting the continuing trend away from single-use sites in favor of 24/7 pedestrian-friendly activity centers.

The four proposed plan amendments, which will now face further scrutiny from county staff, include:

- PC17-DR-001: West Falls Church Metro Station. Submitted by property owner Washington Area Metropolitan Transit Authority (WMATA), the nomination pertains to five parcels of land, totaling 24 acres, situated south of I-66, north of Falls Church Drive, and west of Haycock Road in the Dranesville district. Currently developed with Metro-related facilities and planned for public facilities, governmental, and institutional uses with an option for residential use at a density of up to 30 units per acre, WMATA wants to add an option for mixed-use development that could include up to 150,000-square feet of office use, 50,000-square feet of retail use, and 500 multi-family and townhouse units up to an intensity of 0.96 FAR (with heights increased from 65 to 85 feet).
- PC17-PR-001: INOVA/Exxon-Mobil. Inova Health Care Services’ plan nomination covers the former Exxon-Mobil campus consisting of just under 117 acres south of Route 50, east of Gallows Road, and west of I-495 in the Providence district. As part of its plans to create the Inova Center for Personalized Health, the health care company wants to add two options to the plan for the site: one for up to five million-square feet of office mixed-use development at a 1.0 FAR; the other for up to 15 million-square feet at a 3.0 FAR. The property is currently developed with 1.48 million-square feet of office space.

- PR17-PR-002: Fairview Park. Nominator Fairview Property Investments LLC is asking to allow an option for mixed-use development – including office, hotel, residential, and retail uses up to a 1.0 FAR – on an 86.5-acre area of the Fairview Park office campus located south of Route 28, east of I-495, and south of Route 50. Across I-495 from the Exxon-Mobil site, the property (part of which is undeveloped) is currently planned for high-quality office park uses and developed with 556,068-square feet of office space.
- PC17-SU-001: Sully Station Shopping Center. The 17.43-acre Sully Station Shopping Center property, positioned south of Stonecroft Boulevard, east of Westfields Boulevard, and north of Sequoia Farms Drive in the Sully district, is planned and developed with retail uses. The property owner is asking to include the site in the Dulles Suburban Center area and add an option to permit an option for mixed-use development with 90-percent office, hotel, or assisted living use, 10- to 26- percent retail use, and up to 10-percent private recreation uses (up to a 0.75 FAR).

Briefly Noted...

A McLean landmark – Moby Dick House of Kabobs – has a new owner. McLean-based Jag Partners bought the 2,000-square foot building at 6858 Old Dominion Drive for $1,875,000. The single-story restaurant sits on a 8,790-square feet of C-6 commercially-zoned land.

CPG Realty's Mychael Cohn and Richard Sherman handled the transaction on behalf of the buyer in the off-market purchase. The property traded with a newly penned 10-year triple net lease with Moby Dick.

The board of supervisors at its July 10th meeting took the following actions of interest:

- Approved modifications to the proffers (PCA 1996-LE-047) associated with the Home Depot located on the east side of Frontier Drive, west of Elder Avenue and south of Franconia Road (tax map 090-2-01-0101-A2 and -0101-B) in the Lee district. The applicant – HD Development – is asking to include 11,382-square feet of outdoor storage and staging areas, seasonal sales areas, and outdoor display/sales areas for the existing Home Depot to bring the existing areas into compliance with the zoning ordinance.
- Approved concurrent applications for a proffer condition amendment and special exception (PCA 91-Y-006, SE 2018-SU-001) to permit the construction of three building additions and a pavilion and allow an increase in the on-site child care center/nursery school's enrollment from 75 to 99 children. The 4.48 acres, home to the existing Pender United Methodist Church, is located at 12401 Alder Woods Drive, north of Route 50 (tax map 045-4-01-0008) in the Sully district.
- Approved Stanley Martin Companies' proffer condition and conceptual development plan amendment applications (PCA/CDPA 2017-DR-014) to incorporate 172 two-over-two multi-family stacked units on 11.6 acres zoned PRM, Planned Residential Mixed-Use. The property – within the Dulles Technology Center development – is located on the south side of Dulles Technology Drive between River Birch Road and Sunrise Valley Drive (tax map 016-3-01-0004M) in the Dranesville district.
- Approved the rezoning and special exception applications (RZ 2017-MA-013 and SE 2017-MA-009) submitted by Vulcan Materials Company to rezone 41,151-square feet of land from the R-2 and C-8 districts to I-6 to permit the consolidation of batching plants, construction of a maintenance building and office buildings, construction of a future asphalt plant, increase the building height from 75 feet to 135 feet (part of tax map 080-2-01-0038) in the Mason district. The site is located on the east side of Industrial Drive at the I-395 ramp.
